

Susan's Visit to Korea

Last month my husband and I went to Korea where I was part of the Seongnam International Book Art Fair. We were only there a short time but I fell in love with the country. The people were all so friendly and helpful. We spent most of the time in the exhibition hall with the book art exhibits. We met artists from Korea, China, Canada, Israel, Australia, and the U.S. We did get to visit Seoul which is a big city with big streets and lots of people. We went to a Buddhist temple, an art museum, a palace, a bookstore, and two restaurants. We learned to use stainless steel chopsticks and eat sitting on the floor. I gave two workshops for children. A woman named Hye Gyong was my translator and a big help. We all had a lot of fun.

Have a great summer!

1. Entrance to Book exhibit. The workshop was in tents in the background.
2. Preschoolers looking at books.
3. Preschoolers leaving the exhibition.
4. Lanterns in the courtyard of Jogyesa Temple in Seoul.
